Reds Switch Foreign Ministers Two Key Committees Support Mid-East Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Two key Senate committees declared today they strongly support President Eisenhower's program to use military force, if necessary, to defend the Middle East against Red aggression.

The Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees issued a joint report on the subject. The report was sent to the Senate along with a modified version of Eisenhower's Middle East resolution. Although the language of the resolution was changed by the committees, they said the revised version "strongly supports" the President. They said the changes clearly provide that "should aggression occur and should American help be requested, help would be forthcoming promptly and forcefully."

Beside the military features, the resolution waives restrictions on the use of up to 200 million dollars of foreign aid appropriations to enable the President to give military and economic assistance to nations in the Middle East. The President had asked this power also.

The two committees urged congressional adoption of the revised resolution "to put the Soviet Union on notice that Communist aggression in the Middle East would be a serious threat to the vital interests of the United States."

Debate on the resolution will begin in the Senate Monday.

The committees' report served to back up Eisenhower's stated opinion that the resolution, as revised by committee Democrats, "is intended and designed to accomplish the purposes" he sought. The President asked the Senate to act promptly on the subject and give the administration "a decisive vote."

Last month the House passed the resolution in substantially the same form as Eisenhower submitted it in a special message to Congress Jan. 5.

The Senate committees struck out language giving the President "authority" to use U. S. troops against any over Communist aggression against a Middle Eastern nation. It substituted an amendment saying "If the President determines the necessity thereof, the United States is prepared to use armed forces."

The committees said today the substitute language "has the virtue of remaining silent" on the controversial question of whether the President already has the power, as commander-in-chief of the armed forces, to use them abroad in the national interest.

"By declaring the policy of the United States," the joint report said, "the resolution is actually stronger, in some respects, than a simple authorization to the President."

But the two Senate groups called the Middle East resolution only "an emergency stopgap."

Obviously referring to Arab-Israeli tensions and the problem of access to the Suez Canal, the committees said other measures should be taken promptly. They served notice that they expect "to be consulted as those measures are developed and applied."

Gromyko Takes Over For Shepilov

MOSCOW, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Soviet government changed foreign ministers today, relieving bushy-haired Dmitri Shepilov after only eight months in the office. Unsmiling Gromyko succeeded him.

Westerners in Moscow believe the reshuffle is a signal for a return to the tough policies of former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. Dour, non-committal Gromyko rose to prominence under Molotov, and is regarded as a follower of Stalinist lines.

On the other hand, easy-spoken Shepilov was regarded as a protégé of Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party. Last year Khrushchev downgraded Stalin and adopted a let-it-be policy toward independent Communists in the satellites — policies from which the Soviet party shows signs of retreating.

Gromyko, as former ambassador in Washington and representative at the United Nations, has symbolized in Western eyes the Russian postwar habit of saying "No" and casting vetoes. Gromyko staged a dramatic walk from the Security Council in 1946 to block action on continued Soviet occupation of northern Iran.

No Indication

There was no indication Shepilov was being purged. He returns to his old post as one of the eight secretaries of the powerful Communist party Central Committee under Khrushchev. He was relieved of the secretariat job less than two months ago to allow him more time for his Foreign Ministry duties.

Before his appointment as foreign minister to replace Molotov last June 1 he was editor of the party newspaper Pravda.

His last important act as foreign minister was a major foreign policy speech to the Supreme Soviet last Tuesday. He proposed the big powers stop arms shipments to the Middle East, withdraw their troops and bases and join in cooperative economic developments.

Shepilov's rise to the Foreign Ministry was coupled with the Middle East. A visit he paid to Cairo in 1955 paved the way for Egypt's deal for Communist arms.

Gromyko attained a full membership in the party's Central Committee a year ago. He is 47 years old, four years younger than Shepilov.

He attended the 1944 Dumbarton Oaks conference, and with the founding of the United Nations became the Soviets' chief delegate. Under the tutelage of Molotov he became a tough bargainer in many of the important postwar conferences.

Gromyko became deputy foreign minister in 1948 and returned to Moscow. In 1953, after a year as ambassador in London, he was made first deputy foreign minister.

France did not cast any vote in the Assembly. But Marcel Champeix, the French secretary of state for the interior, held a news conference to announce that his country considered the resolution "a capitulation, a surrender."

Champeix reiterated the view that Algeria is of no concern to the United Nations, but added it would be "unrealistic" not to favor the resolution which the Assembly passed.

Moulou Merbach, secretary general of the Algerian national movement, denied the Assembly action was a capitulation, but asserted the Assembly vote represented a "moral victory" for the Algerian people and upheld the legitimacy of their struggle for self-determination.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Paul Smith gave up his $60,000-a-year job as board chairman of the Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. today after reportedly losing a closed-door fight over his policies.

Queen, Duke To Reunite

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 15 (AP)—Despite a soaking rain, Lisbon's citizens today pushed elaborate preparations for the arrival tomorrow of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, on a state visit.

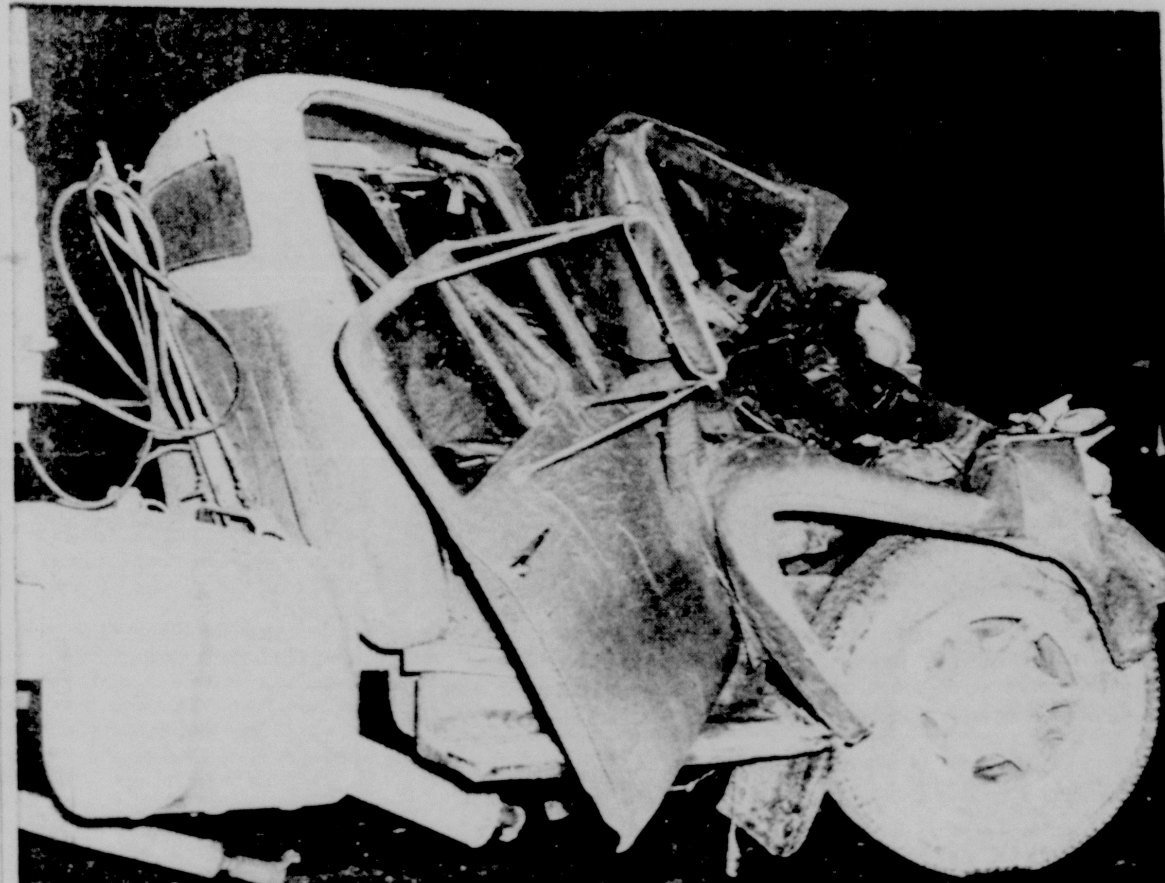

Elizabeth will fly from London to Lisbon tomorrow to meet the Duke who arrives aboard the royal yacht Britannia at the end of his four-month global tour. After two days of comparative privacy together, they will begin a round of official engagements here.

Two years later he was shipped east and assigned to an infantry outfit. He was listed as AWOL June 4, 1944. He "came to" in New York. Again he headed west to hit the skid rows of Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He was married by then, to a woman he met through the lonely heart, column of a newspaper, home at 15 after being expelled from high school for drinking. He traveled the county, landing odd jobs and losing them. He was jailed more than once. From Bowery flophouses he followed a trail of hobo jungles to the West Coast and enlisted in the Army in 1942.

Four Nations Agree On Suez Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP)—The Western Big Three and Norway were reported agreed today on a temporary arrangement for use of the Suez Canal but so far have met silence and resistance in Cairo.

This was reported by an authoritative source who is familiar with the negotiations but who would not permit identification. He said also that U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld would be requested to go to Cairo and seek an agreement with President Nasser. Spokesmen for the United States and Norway confirmed that negotiations are in progress but said it is too early to speak of an agreement.

Norway is working closely with the Big Three powers because of her role as one of the major users of the Suez.

The authoritative source, however, said the United States, Britain, France and Norway have agreed on the following idea for an interim arrangement:

1. All ships, no matter what flag, will have freedom of passage through the Suez Canal when it is opened.

2. Tolls will be paid into a neutral account, such as the International Bank, with some part of the receipts to go to Egypt for operating purposes.

The vital waterway, blocked by wrecks when Britain and France invaded Egypt last fall, is expected to be opened to light shipping early in March. Britain and France have been pressing Hammarskjöld for an interim arrangement before the canal is reopened.

Some diplomats pointed out obstacles in the reported agreement of the four countries. They said President Nasser has shown no sign of allowing Israeli ships in the Suez Canal.

The authoritative source who reported agreement said that Nasser apparently decided to do nothing on the Suez question or any other aspect of the tense Middle East situation until Israeli troops are withdrawn from Egypt.

Israel Rejects American Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Israel today rejected, in effect, an American plan for withdrawal of Israeli troops from disputed Middle East territory. It offered a counterproposal which the State Department promptly labeled "not responsive."

The negotiations on a two-part proposal put forward by Secretary of State Dulles continued. But they were understood to be foundering on Israel's insistence on a nonbelligerency pledge from Egypt or stronger assurances of American support before pulling out of the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba area.

After authorizing a statement of "regret," Dulles left a meeting with Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban and headed for Washington's National Airport. He took off with Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations, for a hurry-up conference with President Eisenhower tonight and tomorrow at Thomasville, Ga.

State Department

The State Department said the conference would take up Dulles' efforts to get Israeli troops out of Egypt as well as other foreign policy problems.

Eban spent 75 minutes with Dulles at the State Department. It was a long-heralded conference at which Eban was expected to reply to Dulles' proposal to him last Monday.

This proposal was that Israeli forces quit the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba area on assurances that the United States would 1. support the right of all ships to "innocent passage" through the Strait of Tiran into the Gulf of Aqaba, and 2. pledge to work for stationing United Nations forces and observers along the borders of the Gaza Strip to prevent any terror raids.

Eban was expected to reply to Dulles and request further clarification. However, after the meeting, State Department press officer Lincoln White issued a statement with Dulles' approval.

"We regret," it said, "that the ambassador's reply does not seem responsive to the U. S. positions communicated to Mr. Eban last Monday."

Post Office Protests Cuts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—One of the first tentative cuts in the new federal budget — something under two percent in postal operating funds — drew a sharp protest from the Post Office Department today.

Deputy Postmaster General Maurice H. Stans called the proposed 58-million-dollar reduction "drastic and ill-advised." He said if it was allowed to stand it would "compel a drastic curtailment in postal service."

Senator Pleads In Behalf Of South

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—A Southern senator pleaded today that the South be allowed to settle its own racial relations problem today while a Northern senator plumped for an antilynching bill on top of the administration's civil rights program.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), who urged the antilynching bill, also called for enactment of a measure to make bodily attacks on uniformed members of the armed forces a federal offense.

"Our treatment of the Negro is a national sin," Douglas said. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) pleaded the cause of those opposing federal legislation. He said nobody can solve the problem but "the patient leaders of both groups in the South."

Belief
"When the agitation ends and the outsiders leave," Stennis said, "then we will have to go back to rebuilding good relations."

Stennis said the Supreme Court decisions against school segregation and agitation for civil rights bills in Congress and elsewhere were only setting back good race relations in the South.

Declaring it is "a sad day" when the public schools "are handled by courts and politicians in such a fashion that they have to be operated through injunctions and criminal statutes," Stennis said:

"We are not going to build a school system in the South on injunctions of the attorney general." Stennis and Douglas testified at a Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearing marked by peppery exchanges between Atty. Gen. Brownell and Sen. Ervin (D-NC), a subcommittee member.

Margaret To Have Baby

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman is scheduled to become a grandfather, a role he has coveted. His only child, Mrs. Clifton Daniel, expects her first baby about July.

The husband of the former Margaret Truman confirmed her impending motherhood today. He said his wife is getting along fine. Daniel works on the city desk of the New York Times.

The newspaperman said Margaret has broken the good news to her parents. Of the former Democratic President, Daniel said:

"I'm sure he's pleased." Asked once about his daughter's career as a singer, Truman replied that frankly he would rather have a grandchild.

Margaret marks her 33rd birthday on Sunday.

She and Daniel were married in Independence, Mo., last April 21. It was the first marriage for both. He is 44.

Railroads Begin Cut In Employees

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Top dock union leaders split in anger today over terms for ending a four-day East Coast waterfront strike. Their falling out stalled any progress toward settlement. Forty-five thousand longshoremen are idle from Maine to Virginia and strike losses are mounting at the rate of three million dollars a day.

Moreover, the economic paralysis on the docks was spreading inland. Railroads began laying off men because their shipments to the struck docks have been choked off.

Leaders of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) have been trying for two days to decide whether to take a final peace offer from the shippers.

Opposes
Twice this afternoon, a faction opposed to the peace terms stormed angrily out of the ILA caucus. It finally was adjourned until tomorrow, without a final decision.

"A cooling off will be good for them," said ILA counsel Louis Waldman of the overnight adjournment.

Meanwhile, negotiators for the 170-member New York Shippers Assn. cooled their heels for a second day, waiting the ILA's decision.

The shippers made what they termed their final contract offer to the ILA in midafternoon yesterday. Since then the union's 125-man Wage Scale Committee has been deadlocked over the proposal.

ILA President William V. Bradley and Brooklyn dock boss Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia were believed willing to accept the peace terms and end the strike.

But West Side Manhattan union chiefs—including leaders of pistol Local 824—were holding out for further concessions from the shippers.

Twice the latter faction marched out of the caucus and headed for the elevators. Twice they were persuaded to return.

They were angered by a caucus vote in favor of re-evaluating the peace offer item by item.

The walkouts were led by Harold Bowers, business agent of the pistol local, which gets its name from its long record of violence. The local controls the mid-Manhattan luxury piers, where the world's greatest liners dock.

"Let's have our own meeting," shouted the dissident leaders in the corridor at one point.

"Go ahead," retorted Bradley, "either follow me and stay in or go out."

Calm
Finally, they calmed down and went back inside.

Bradley was asked how long he thought it would take for the committee to decide on the shippers' offer. He replied impatiently:

"Oh, maybe five minutes, five days or five weeks — I don't know."

Stumbling blocks to a new contract were the fringe issues—holidays, vacations, working hours and sling loads.

The two sides were in general agreement on a 32-cent-an-hour wage increase, spread over three years. Current dock wages average $2.48 an hour.

The ILA originally struck the docks last Nov. 15 after a contract deadlock that began Aug. 1. A Taft-Hartley law injunction interrupted the strike Nov. 24 for 80 days.

The injunction expired Tuesday evening and the longshoremen resumed their strike at the moment of its death.

More than 100 ships were tied up.

A freight embargo halted railroad shipments to the ports, where cargo already clogged terminals. As a result, the Jersey Central Railroad laid off 300 men at Jersey City, N. J. At Philadelphia, the Reading Railroad laid off a similar number.

The Baltimore & Ohio made plans to furlough more than 2,000 employees and the Erie tabbed 300 to 400 for layoffs.

Unaffected by the strike were coal carriers and oil tankers.

Care Urged For Teacher Program

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15 (AP)—A teachers spokesman and legislator today adopted a go-slow approach to long-range proposals to modify Pennsylvania's system of state teachers colleges.

"We must be careful in any program that would readjust teacher education facilities," declared Harvey Gehman, executive director of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn.

Crew Member Rescued After Jumping From Burning Plane

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 15 (AP)—A B47 bomber crew battled flames in the plane 180 miles out over the Atlantic today and brought the craft home safely after one man had parachuted out and another had lost consciousness.

Explosion Wipes Out Clinton Clues

CLINTON, Tenn., Feb. 15 (AP)—The terrific force of a dynamite explosion in the Negro section of racially torn Clinton last night literally obliterated clues upon which to work, police said today.

A restaurant was wrecked, window panes were shattered in more than a score of homes, and a Negro woman and baby were injured slightly. Officers said they have made no arrests.

The blast was the eighth and most destructive in a series that has been set off in Clinton and environs since last fall when 12 Negro students were admitted to Clinton High School under federal court mandate. It was the first to cause injuries or appreciable damage.

Roar
Negro patrons of the restaurant said they saw a white man drive up, leave a suitcase on a concrete stoop across the street, strike a match, jump back into his car and speed away.

A few seconds later the explosion went off with a roar that police said shook most of this town of 4,000 population.

"The explosion, like all the others, shattered all traces of the suitcase or anything else that might give us a lead to work on," Police Chief Francis Moore said.

Symington To Press Ross Investigation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) said today he does not intend to let the departure of Robert Tripp Ross from the Pentagon end the Senate's investigation of Ross' business connections.

Symington said he would insist that the inquiry into "possible conflict of interest" on the part of Ross be continued.

Resignation

Ross resigned last night as assistant secretary of defense for legislative and public affairs. He told President Eisenhower that while he had done no wrong he felt his future effectiveness in his office had been impaired.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, on which Symington serves, has questioned Ross about big military contracts awarded to firms headed by Ross' wife and brother-in-law.

"The Missouri senator said he was tired of halting government investigations when the officials under fire resigned. However, Sen. Mundt (R-SD), also a subcommittee member, said he saw no reason for continuing the Ross inquiry."

U. N. Assembly Approves Peace Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly approved unanimously today a "conciliatory" resolution expressing hope for a peaceful, democratic and just solution to end more than two years of violence and bloodshed in Algeria.

Both sides in the bitter dispute—the French and representatives of independence-seeking Arab nationalists—immediately claimed the Assembly action represented a victory for their point of view.

There was no word that the 7-0 vote had prompted new negotiations in Algeria, where more than 70 lives were lost in the past 24 hours in the continuing warfare between the French and the rebelling Arab nationalists.

Conference

France did not cast any vote in the Assembly. But Marcel Champeix, the French secretary of state for the interior, held a news conference to announce that his country considered the resolution "a capitulation, a surrender."

Champeix reiterated the view that Algeria is of no concern to the United Nations, but added it would be "unrealistic" not to favor the resolution which the Assembly passed.

Moulou Merbach, secretary general of the Algerian national movement, denied the Assembly action was a capitulation, but asserted the Assembly vote represented a "moral victory" for the Algerian people and upheld the legitimacy of their struggle for self-determination.

The observer normally is ejected downward from the plane, others from the top.

U.N. Rules Against Soviets

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly decided today, over bitter Russian protests, not to take up the Soviet charge that the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine is threatening peace.

The vote was 52-13. In addition to eight Soviet-bloc countries, those voting in favor of debate were Yugoslavia, Egypt, India, Jordan and Syria.

Soviet U. N. Delegate Vassily V. Kuznetsov unleashed a blistering attack against what he called "the brink of war policy" of the United States, which he said was reinstating the "cold war."

It was the first Soviet statement in the United Nations after the announcement earlier in the day that Andrei Gromyko has replaced Dmitri Shepilov as foreign minister in Moscow.

The appeals court was told that McNamara took off on a blinge from Camp Pickett, Va., in 1944.

Business
When the G-men finally tracked him down in 1955 he had established himself in business and sensed victory in a bout with the bottle that had begun in high school days.

Because of his comeback, three members of his court-martial recommended leniency. A Southern California official of Alcoholics Anonymous spoke in his behalf.

There was testimony he had helped to rehabilitate others. Thirty-three letters were written in his defense.

Military authorities, however, were confronted with facts of desertion in time of war and for years afterward.

Records divulged that McNamara, born in Scranton, Pa., left

ANSWER THIS QUESTION

Am I My Brother's Keeper?

Those words do come from the Bible. And they have sometimes been quoted to justify a man's lack of concern for the welfare of others.

When we quote Scripture we must be careful WHOM we are quoting!

It was Cain, the first murderer, who asked that biting question. God had said, "Where is Abel, thy brother?" And Cain was trying to escape the consequences of his crime.

Each of us is responsible for his brother's welfare. That is the very reason this feature is appearing in your newspaper.

You and your family need the spiritual resources our churches offer. In whichever Christian congregation you select there are waiting to welcome you many men and women and young people whose faith has taught them a deep concern for their brothers.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Brotherhood Week Gives Us Chance To Practice Our Beliefs In God, Americanism And Democracy

Brotherhood is not a matter of ignoring or trying to erase the differences that exist among people. To the contrary, brotherhood can flourish only when people are aware of their differences, learn to discern and understand them, and are proud of them.

These truths take on special meaning during Brotherhood Week, which opens tomorrow and runs through Sunday, Feb. 24, under sponsorship of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The conference, which unites Protestant, Catholic and Jew on matters of common principle, fosters mutual understanding between members of different races, and creeds, and among groups of different national origin.

The vague and rather condescending attitude we call tolerance has little to do with brotherhood. Tolerance means only to put up with something, to suffer it out of benevolence or courtesy.

Brotherhood is founded on fact and on right—on the fact that people are different from one another and have every right to be so.

The equal rights and equal opportunities we seek to accord to all of our citizens are based on respect for every person's worth and his individuality, including whatever makes him different from another.

Brotherhood flourishes in an atmosphere which "recognizes the freedom of the Catholic or the Jew or the Protestant to hold that his faith is the only true faith," as the National Conference says in its statement of policy.

The organization strives for brotherhood "not on the basis of removing religious differences" but by urging all men "diligently to seek the truth and to follow their consciences."

Gov. George M. Leader, Pennsylvania chairman for Brotherhood Week, brings the thought a little closer to home with his observation, "The very nature in coming to the New World was to give a freedom to men of all faiths as well as his own."

We can practice our beliefs in God, in Americanism and in democracy by renewing our allegiance to the basic ideal of human kinship during Brotherhood Week and throughout the remaining 51 weeks of every year.

Charity Shows 10 Percent Rise Over Last Year

Monroe Countians who have contributed generously to charitable campaigns over the years will be interested to learn that Americans opened their hearts and their pocketbooks in unprecedented proportions in 1956.

The American Association of Fund Raising Counsel says the people of this nation gave an estimated 6.1 billion dollars to charitable organizations last year.

This represents a 10 percent increase over 1955. To get some idea of what this figure means, it could be measured against the proposed federal budget of 72 billion dollars.

In other words, we gave to charity last year one-twelfth as much as the federal budget. That's not a bad record at all.

Whatever may be our faults as Americans, we surely can't be accused of lacking an impulse toward charity.

George Sokolsky Says...

Desert Sustains So Few People Crowding Is Certain to Cause Political Explosion

The Middle Eastern problem does not settle down despite the wishes and desires of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. They apparently believed that they could, by charm or personality bring an end to a conflict that has an historical basis and must become more tense as Egypt develops its hegemony over Africa Islamic countries.

The Arabs present a complex which is strange to the Western world. Were Arabia one nation, as France is a nation, it might have been possible to formulate a plan in which national responsibility could be a factor. But there is no such nation as Arabia. There are many nations in which the Arabs form a majority of the people, in which a dialect of Arabian is spoken and in which the Islamic civilization prevails. The Arabic language, it is estimated, is spoken by about 45,000,000 people and its alphabet, in whole or modified, is employed in the Persian, Afghan, Urdu and some of the Turkish, Berber and Malayan languages.

Whereas Islam is a civilization and the Arabic language is used by all Arabs, a number of nations have evolved out of this people who emerged from the desert into the fertile lands, and into the Nile Valley and the Tigris-Euphrates area of fertility.

The nations, in modern times, which have formed as the Crescent of Fertility and in the desert are Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Syria, Yemen, Lebanon and Israel; in addition to these there are a large number of sheikhdoms which are similar to European principalities. Neither Lebanon nor Israel ought to be included in this list but are for geographic reasons; on the other hand, Sudan, Libya, Algeria, Tunisia, Morocco and all the areas of North Africa and deep into the Sahara are basically a mixture of Arabic and all sorts of different peoples.

The Arabs are Semites and it is beyond doubt correct that aboriginal Arabs and aboriginal Hebrews were of identical origin. In Genesis, this origin is attributed to Abraham, whose sons Isaac and Ishmael are the progenitors of these two people.

The probability is that the Babylonians, Assyrians, Chaldeans, Amorites, Arameans, Phoenicians, Hebrews, Arab and Abyssinians were originally the same people and lived in the same area and differentiated as they moved out into new territory and intermarried with the natives.

We do know from the Bible that Abraham, who is recorded as the father of both the Hebrews and the Arabs, originated in Ur of Chaldees and was probably a Chaldean.

There are several theories as to the geographic origin of this people. It is believed that they originated either in Mesopotamia or the Arabian Peninsula; at any rate, they are found in both areas in very early times. The desert gets crowded because it can sustain life on any decent level for so few. And when the desert is are the ones supposed to live that aren't earning any salary?

"Deeply Concerned Citizen" is right; it's the opinion of the people that live here that encourages other folks to move in.

Yes, we all want good schools. We all want the best of everything. We even like to throw our chests out when a charity drive goes over the top. But it only takes a little good horse sense to know that we have to have some of that "one green stuff" that Uncle Sam prints in order to have all those things.

I think it's about time to start concentrating on the employment situation here or there won't be anything but a skeleton for the vacationers to visit.

Wisdom is the principal thing, Prov. 4:7.

In 1894 there were only fifty thousand students in all the colleges and universities in America. There are that many now in some individual universities. But wisdom rests on correct information, on TRUTH. But some dictators say that truth is that which supports their dictatorship. Truth is mighty and will prevail some of us will see it.

Our Comedians Are Not Necessarily Problems

ness? Those funny fellows, giving us laughs—are they Pagliacchi who help us to laugh? Or are they the pain in a head that break they have known?

Three of our most celebrated comedians—Gleason, Caesar, and Jerry Lewis—have told their stories for publication. Each experienced frustration, grief, and acknowledged that loneliness caused intense suffering in childhood. Lewis and Caesar tell us frankly of their troubles in throwing off childish antics, their turning to exhibitionism to compensate for feeling unloved and unappreciated.

I would be interested in knowing the connection, if any, between the frantic urge toward slapstick comedy and backgrounds of emotional torment. (We wondered why a six-year-old acquaintance always wept when watching Gleason on television. He made her sad. Perhaps she was one of the more perceptive observers. His "Poor Soul" portrayals brought quiet tears to the child; what was funny about humiliation and being always misunderstood?)

If happier childhoods had made these sensitive performers into dull but "well-adjusted" rabbits, our comedy loss would be great. Still, if such tormented existence is prerequisite to their emergence as comedians, perhaps that price is too high. Does the sting of cruelty's whip good these entertainers to win "love" from a public which will "love" them only while they are tops? Are soul-searching articles like these, invitations to greater sympathy—and publicity? Or is there a more serious intent to illustrate how a comedian gets that way? There are plenty of names on the comedy roster to indicate that all is not frenzy and flight wags. We still have the Bob Hopes, Jack Benny's, Red Skeltons, Lucille Balls, Joe E. Browns, Bert Lahr and many others, all of whom have demonstrated their grown-up grasp of any old problem life deals out. Yet we can't help wondering why unhappiness made comedians of Caesar, Gleason and Lewis, instead of accountants or insurance brokers?

Robert S. Allen Reports

Airlift Capacity Question Embarrasses Adm. Radford

Washington, Feb. 15—Admiral Arthur Radford will probably be more wary the next time he tangles with the House Appropriations Subcommittee handling the military budget.

Carelessness in that regard by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff led him squarely into an investigation of the explosive issue of whether the U.S. has sufficient airlift to meet its military commitments—particularly under the President's new policy in the inflamed Middle East.

The powerful Appropriations Subcommittee decided to dig into this controversial matter after a closed-door session with Radford, at which he came out second best.

It all began when Rep. Daniel Flood (D., Pa.) asked a deceptively innocent question: "What is your opinion," he inquired pleasantly, "of the recent report of the special committee headed by Senator Symington which held that the U.S. has insufficient airlift capacity to maintain the mobility of the Army and to enable it to meet overseas commitments?"

"For once and for all," replied Admiral Radford, "I want to lay the ghost that there is a shortage of airlift capacity. I consider myself somewhat of an expert in this matter, having given it a great deal of study recently. On the basis of that, I am fully convinced that we have sufficient airlift to meet the requirements of the Army and the other services, too."

"That's very interesting," continued Flood, "but your views seem to be at great variance with those of the Secretary of the Air Force."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs expressed surprise at this. "I know of no comment by the Air Force Secretary that is counter to the opinion I have just given you," said Radford.

At this, Flood took a letter from his coat pocket. Showing it to Radford, Flood declared:

"This letter from the Secretary of the Air Force is in answer to one I wrote him asking for specific information concerning airlift capacity. I did not ask for his opinion. I asked the Secretary for specific facts and details. His reply does not concur with what you say. What his reply adds up to is that the amount of airlift now available is insufficient to transport one division and its equipment to the Middle East."

Radford slowly shook his head in disbelief.

"I don't know about that letter," he said, "but there is sufficient airlift to transport a full division to any theater of operations. We have a sea-lift which would be used to supply such a division and to carry its heavy equipment."

"That is merely your opinion," retorted Flood. "I'm not interested in your opinion. This committee is interested in the facts. That's what I asked from the Secretary of the Air Force, and the facts he has detailed in his reply show we do not have sufficient airlift. You say there is ample airlift, but what you come up with is a slow-boat-to-China plan, under which troops would be airlifted and then their equipment would come over 30 days later by boat, provided the war was still on by then."

Radford protested this was not his thought.

"Well, obviously something is wrong somewhere," contended Flood, "and I believe this committee should make a full-scale investigation without further delay."

"If the committee is going to do that," asserted Radford, "then I would like to have about three weeks to prepare."

"I thought you told us you were an expert," snapped Flood. "You said you had all the information about airlift at your finger-tips; that you had made an extended study of the subject."

"Yes," added Rep. George Mahon (D., Tex.), "that's what you said. So why do you need three weeks to prepare?"

"There is quite a bit of technical material which will have to be submitted to the committee," pointed out Radford, "and that will take time to get ready. It can't be gotten together overnight."

Whereupon the committee unanimously voted the inquiry, but did grant Radford several weeks to prepare himself to be the first witness.

Sparks—Norway's veteran Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstjerne, dean of the diplomatic corps, is not leaving Washington when he retires for age 70) next fall. He and Mme. Morgenstjerne have lived in the Capital so long that they, and their two daughters who were born and raised here, have decided to make it their permanent home. Their plan is to rent an apartment and settle down in the city where they have lived and worked since 1910.

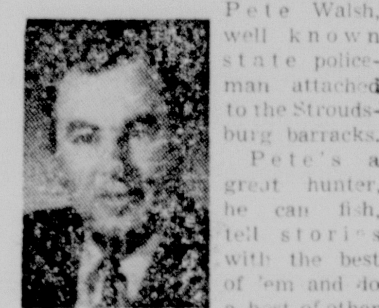

In line as next dean of the diplomatic corps is Nicaragua's Ambassador Don Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, who came to Washington in 1943. Seniority among foreign diplomats is based on length of service in a particular post. The Army plans a sizable cut in officer promotions in the fiscal year starting July 1. The estimated total of promotions for that 12-month period is 18,000, approximately 8,500 less than the current year. Most of the cutbacks will be in the grades of lieutenant and captain. As against reducing the number of such promotions, Army Secretary Wilbur Brucker says 84 more generals are needed. His chances of getting them are remote.

Some Guys Have Wide Abilities

By Jim Riley

Some people have the faculty of doing most anything.

A gentleman of this type is

Pete Walsh, well-known state policeman, attached to the Stroudsburg barracks.

Pete's a great hunter, he can fish, tell stories with the best of 'em and do a host of other things that we awkward folk find difficult.

But, even Pete's friends were surprised to hear that he's a man of medicine.

After studying medical books for a day or two, Pete was responsible for the healthy arrival of a litter of kittens recently.

Yep, he's a good man.

While on the subject of state policemen, this might be the time to mention the fact that two of our local troopers were disappointed at the recent Grundsow Lodge banquet, held at the American Legion.

The pair is Don Henzey, Stroudsburg, and Joe Murphy, Mount Pocono.

They were all set to sing an Irish duff, but those in charge never called on the golden-throated tenors.

We also have guys like Les Carlton, former chief photographer of The Daily Record, who would stretch the truth more than a little bit for a reward.

He was advertising his birthday on Thursday of this week, but just between us, it wasn't.

Bob Clark, sports editor of The Daily Record, will celebrate a wedding anniversary tomorrow.

Congratulations are certainly in order Dottie and Bob.

Ken Rinker, S. Stroudsburg resident, was the most traveled man in the Monroe County Court Room this week.

The well known fu-maker did plenty of walking during his official duties.

Monroe County residents who travel Route 611, north, are certainly happy about the opening of the two bridges at Bartonsville, as are residents along the former detour.

It certainly is like old times and makes the ride enjoyable.

Paul Carlson, Daily Record reporter, wife Myrt and son "JR" are preparing for a trip to Florida next weekend.

They're counting the days.

In conclusion today I wish to thank the many people who have written favorable letters and made pleasant telephone calls of late concerning this column. Each was greatly appreciated.

Doran To Run For Office Of Burgess In Stroudsburg

ED DORAN, first ward councilman, yesterday announced his candidacy for the office of Chief Burgess of Stroudsburg Borough.

Doran, who has served as first ward councilman for the past eight years, said that he decided to seek the nomination as Burgess following requests from several hundred citizens and taxpayers in the borough.

A property owner with a wide business experience, Doran was employed by the J. C. Penney Co. for 24 years and served as manager of the local Penney store for 16 years. He also acted as district group manager of six eastern stores in the Penney chain. These were located in Pittston, Bloomsburg, Shamokin, Shenandoah, Williamsport and Mt. Carmel.

He has been employed by the A. B. Wyckoff-Sears store in Stroudsburg for the past 14 years.

Improvements
Major improvements in the borough during the last eight years in which Doran participated with no increase in taxes include: Street construction programs for Kane, Thomas St., from Fifth to Ninth St.; Williams St., Mill Alley; Sarah St., from Eighth to Ninth St.; Oak St., Huston Ave., Collins St., Wallace St., and Scott St.

Resurfacing of First, Second, Third, Ann, S. Sixth, Sarah, S. Ninth, S. 10th and Williams Sts. also was done during his period in office.

He recalled yesterday he has sponsored or voted for the following: The 1950 presentation of a motion to take bids for a 1000-gallon pumper for the fire department; sponsored increase of benefits of volunteer firemen's accident insurance; helped obtain Social Security for borough employees; and helped establish the pension plan for all borough employees.

He further actively engaged in negotiations to get Holland Thread Co. to connect to the borough sewer plant to eliminate the bad odors on lower Main St., that existed for 20 years.

He was a leading supporter for creation of the Stroudsburg Municipal Authority; enlargement and rehabilitation of the sewage works and construction of sewers west of the Pocono Creek; and the creation of the Stroudsburg Parking Authority.

Doran participated in negotiations with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the payment of $55,000 by the state toward sewer plant reconstructions. He also supervised construction of the filter system at the playground swimming pool.

Ed Doran

Doran presented a resolution approving the Municipal Authority's purchase of Monroe County Water Supply Co., at no increase in consumer water rates.

Committee

He has served on the following committees: chairman of streets 1956-57; fire and police, 1950-51; sewers and sewage disposal, 1952-53-54-55; finance, public property and was appointed chairman of traffic and planning commission.

Doran also cooperated in every way, he said, in the rehabilitation of property damaged during the 1955 flood disaster resulting from Hurricane Diane.

Doran said that he plans to conduct a high-level campaign and that he pledges responsible cooperation to all citizens, council, the merchants association; labor, fire and police departments, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations functioning in the borough.

"If I'm elected," Doran said, "the operation of the police department will be in the hands of the chief of police with limited supervision from the burgess' office."

"I will also strive to get the parking meter control back in the hands of the police department—to give a more flexible program with system at the playground swimming pool."

Minor Judiciary Members Form Associations

Officers To Be Elected Next Month

MEMBERS OF THE minor judiciary met at the Court House in Stroudsburg last night and decided to organize a Monroe County Magistrates and Constables Assn. Formal organization and election of officers will take place at a meeting to be held next month. It was agreed that the magistrates and constables of Pike County be invited to join in forming a two-county organization, and contact will be made to sound out their feeling in the matter.

Chairman

J. S. Knauf, of Mount Pocono, presided as temporary chairman at last night's meeting.

He said all the justices of peace in attendance showed an interest in taking a course in criminal and civil procedures which may be given next Fall by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The association is being organized, Knauf said, for discussions of common interest to the minor judiciary and to acquaint them with new legislation coming under their jurisdiction.

Mrs. Wilson Succumbs

MRS. ANNA E. Wilson, 73 of Pocono Pines, died at 8:30 last night in the home of her son, Charles Wilson, Canadensis after a long illness.

She was the widow of A. A. Wilson. Born in Long Pond, she was the daughter of the late Charles and Lucinda Keiper Eichenbach. She had lived most of her life in Pocono Pines.

She was a member of Salem Reformed Church and the Ladies Aid Society of that church.

Survivors

Surviving are two sons, Claude, Pocono Pines and Charles, Canadensis; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Kreckman, Sarasota, Fla. and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at William H. Clark funeral home. The Rev. John R. Hoeman will officiate. Interment will be made in Pocono Pines cemetery. Friends may call after 7 p.m. on Monday at the funeral home.

Hughes Buys Property

RONSON CORP. of Pennsylvania has sold a lot and building on Spruce St. in East Stroudsburg to Hughes Printing Co., that borough.

Amount of the transaction was $32,500 according to a deed filed yesterday at the office of Floyd Butz, register and recorder.

E. B. Hughes, president of the printing company said last night that his firm intends to use the Spruce St. lot off Courtland St. for storage space. A parking lot is connected to the tract on which the building stands and this was also part of the sale.

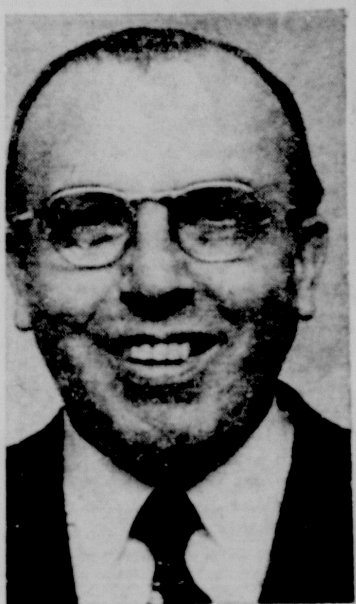

Other deeds filed were these: Mr. and Mrs. Ira F. Knorr, Tunkhannock Township, have sold a lot in Tunkhannock to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chestnut, also of that township.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Rice, Coolbaugh Township, have sold a lot in that township to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Tierney, also of Coolbaugh.

Funeral Notices

WILSON, Mrs. Anna E. of Pocono Pines, Friday, February 15, aged 73 years. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral services Tuesday, February 19 at 2 p.m. from the William H. Clark Funeral Home. Interment will be in the Pocono Pines Cemetery. Viewing Monday at the funeral home after 7 p.m.

Dr. Floyd W. Shafer

Dr. Shafer Named On Medical Board

HENRY L. SNYDER, president of the new Muhlenberg Medical Center in Northwest Bethlehem, said yesterday the Advisory Board of the hospital is now in process of formation. When completed, it will embody representation from every part of the center's seven-county service area.

Among those named to act in an advisory capacity to the Board of Directors is Dr. Floyd W. Shafer, of Stroudsburg.

Schooling

He is a graduate of Muhlenberg College, Temple University Medical School, and took post-graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania in internal medicine. Dr. Shafer is medical director of Monroe County and on the staff of General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

He is a member of the American Medical Assn., Pennsylvania State Medical Assn., Monroe County Medical Assn., and is a fellow of the American College of Chest Physicians. Dr. Shafer is president of the Board of Trustees of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, vice president of the Taylor Co., Taylor, Pa., and a member of many fraternal organizations.

The large object moved off "toward Stroudsburg" before it stopped and stood still, the driver said. It was still in the sky when he stopped at Wind Gap and showed the objects to several people there.

"They all agreed they'd never seen anything like it before," he said. The truck driver first sighted the objects at about 2:30 a.m. The largest of the three was still in the sky, motionless, when he went to bed at about 4:45.

It was at 5:15 a.m. that the red-colored object was seen moving toward the north by a Stroudsburg housewife who had awakened to change her baby's diaper. She saw the object from the window in her bedroom; observed it as it moved north, then abruptly changed its course—at a right angle—and moved off toward the east.

She was employed by Ackermanville Sportswear Co. Mrs. Capobianco was a member of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Roseto; the Education Association of Mount Carmel Parochial School and the Ladies Auxiliary of Fr. DiNisco Council, State Belt Knights of Columbus.

Surviving are her husband, her parents; two daughters, Louise Ann and Grace Marie, both at home; three brothers, Anthony, Daniel and Nicholas Cerino, all of Bangor and a sister, Rosa Cerino, also of Bangor.

Requiem mass will be said Monday at 10 a.m. in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Roseto with burial in the New Catholic Cemetery, Roseto.

Truck Driver Watches Objects In Sky

By Leonard Randolph

"I SAW THREE of them. They were orange-red in color and they were moving much too fast for an airplane. They stayed on no definite course. But I observed them, altogether about two hours in the sky."

The words are those of a Stroudsburg truck driver who observed "unidentified flying objects" in the air Tuesday morning.

That was the same morning a Stroudsburg woman watched a strange object zoom across the sky at about 5:15 a.m. The woman had never believed in "flying saucer" stories before. Neither had the truck driver.

The driver makes a regular run, with a loaded truck, between Binghams and Allentown. He was on his way back to Snyderville from Allentown Tuesday morning when this happened.

He said he glanced at the sky and saw three lighted objects. They seemed to be hovering, stationary.

Observance

Then the largest of the three seemed to turn the other two loose in the sky and they began to move around real fast. After observing this activity intermittently for some minutes, the truck driver stopped his truck in Moorestown. He watched the objects for "about 20 minutes" there.

It was at Moorestown that the driver attempted to determine that the largest of the three objects was staying absolutely still. To test this he stationed his arm steadily so that the object was between two fingers slightly spread apart. He did not waver beyond the space, he said.

The other two objects, however, maneuvered through the sky with astonishing speed. One of them, he said, "made it across the span of the sky in 11 seconds . . . and then came back again, then moved off in a different direction."

Tuesday morning was bright and clear, starry and cloudless. There was no fog or mist. There were no lights in the sky.

The large object moved off "toward Stroudsburg" before it stopped and stood still, the driver said. It was still in the sky when he stopped at Wind Gap and showed the objects to several people there. "They all agreed they'd never seen anything like it before," he said. The truck driver first sighted the objects at about 2:30 a.m. The largest of the three was still in the sky, motionless, when he went to bed at about 4:45.

Air Force Nominations

GEORGE Steinhauer and Thomas A. Marsh, both of Stroudsburg High School, have been nominated for the United States Air Force Academy by U. S. Rep. Francis E. Walter.

The young men, two of eight picked from the Walter's 15th Congressional District, are Stroudsburg High students.

Also nominated was Robert S. Kish, of Mount Bethel RD1.

Scranton Man In 'Good' Condition

A SCRANTON man—Stanley Codick, 30—was in "good" condition last night at General Hospital of Monroe County where he was being treated for a wrenched back.

Codick was injured, Mount Pocono State police said, when his car went off Route 90 near Cresco at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Police said he was driving north when his car skidded out of control on the icy highway. The car veered off the road and came to rest on Lackawanna Railroad tracks.

Codick was treated in the office of Dr. Laurence Furlong, Mount Pocono, and taken to the hospital. Police said there was little damage to the car. Codick was injured when he was thrown to the floor of the vehicle.

'First Shot' Phase Of Program Ends

AT MIDDLE Smithfield School, Echo Lake, another 175 children were given free polio shots yesterday.

That brought the "school" portion of the Monroe County Medical Society's program to a close so far as "first" shots are concerned.

School officials said the number of children receiving the shots at Middle Smithfield was "almost 100 percent." Cooperation among doctors, nurses and clerks was again praised highly by all those taking part.

Next Month

The second shots in the series will be given about a month from now. The program will again be carried out in the public schools.

The free inoculations will be given Monday morning to children who are in training at the Day Care School located in the YMCA building.

Shots for pre-school children who have been missed during this week's program will be given—again free of charge—at the State Clinic on Sarah St. on Tuesdays from 1 to 3 p.m. This portion of the program will begin next Tuesday, Feb. 19 and is designed especially for pre-school children.

He entered the service in June, 1953.

The Coral Sea is scheduled to return to the States Feb. 12 after a tour of duty with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Fire Destroys Home In Greentown

GREENTOWN — Fire destroyed a one and one-half story home occupied by the Manny Beaver family on Route 390 here yesterday afternoon.

Reported at 1 p.m., the fire was out of control when three trucks and 20 men of the Greene-Dreher Fire Department arrived.

A garage six feet from the house was saved, however, and firemen prevented the spread of flames to Wood's lumber yard and sawmill on the other side of the house.

Directions

Directed by Fire Chief Charles Ehrhardt, the firemen were in service three hours.

There was no immediate estimate of damage to the house and contents. Cause of the fire was not determined. The house is reportedly owned by Moss Sheffield.

Made homeless by the fire were Mr. and Mrs. Beaver and their son.

Do you, as a Citizen and Taxpayer, know what the Duties and Responsibilities of your Chief Burgess are?

BOROUGH CODE

Section 1027. General Powers of Burgess. The burgess shall have power:

- I. To administer oaths and affirmations in matters pertaining to borough affairs.
- II. To exercise jurisdiction in all disputes, between the borough and individuals, arising under the ordinances, rules and regulations of the borough.
- III. To exercise the powers and jurisdiction of justices of the peace in the enforcement of all ordinances of the borough, and the collection of fines and penalties imposed thereunder; and to sentence any person violating any such ordinance to detention in the lock-up, county jail or workhouse, as hereinafter provided.
- IV. To exercise the powers and jurisdiction of justices of the peace within the borough for the suppression of riots, tumults, and disorderly meetings; and in all criminal cases for the punishment of vagrants and disorderly persons.

Section 1028. Duties of Burgess.—It shall be the duty of the burgess:

- I. To preserve order in the borough; to enforce the ordinances and regulations; to hear complaints; to remove nuisances; and to exact a faithful performance of the duties of the officers appointed.
- II. To sign such papers, contracts, obligations, and documents as may be lawfully required by council.
- III. To keep correct accounts of all fees, fines, and costs, received by him; to render to the council at each regular meeting an itemized statement of all such monies so received since the last regular meeting of the council, with the dates at which and the names of the persons from whom the same was received, and to pay all such monies into the borough treasury prior to such regular meeting, except such costs and fees as he may be authorized to retain in lieu of salary. The burgess shall be reimbursed by the borough for the costs of such dockets, books and forms, not to exceed twenty-five dollars in the aggregate for any one year, as are directly useful in the conduct of his office. Such dockets, books and forms shall be and remain in the property of the borough, and shall be surrendered to his successor in office.
- IV. To cause to be opened all public roads or streets, laying within or partly within the borough.

Panel On Health For E.S. PTA

The East Stroudsburg Parent-Teachers Association at their meeting on Monday night at 8, at the Senior High School, will feature a panel discussion on "Your Child's Food and Health at School."

Dr. Charles Rushmore will speak on general health, Dr. A. J. Harlacher on dental health and Miss Charlotte Shupp, school nurse, on diet.

At the business meeting plans will be discussed for the square dance on March 2.

Mrs. Oliver Wilson is chairman of the committee to serve refreshments after the meeting.

Family Supper Sunday Night At Grace Church

The Young People's Bible Class of the Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, are planning a pot luck supper for Sunday, Feb. 17, at 5 p.m., in the church social room for members and their families as well as for the members of the Crusader Class.

Each family is asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. David Miller, class teacher, will present a program of hymnody after the supper.

Plans for the supper were discussed at a recent meeting when the following officers were elected: James Sheeley, president; Mrs. Harold Repsher, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Schoonover, corresponding secretary; William Palmer Jr., treasurer; and Mrs. LeRoy Morris, hospitality chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. David Miller and Mrs. Howard Smith.

Jackson PTA Plans Spring School Social

Readers: There was a large attendance of members at the meeting of the Jackson Township Parent-Teachers Association meeting on Feb. 7 at the school in Readers.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Emma Butz, the PTA decided to hold a social for the children in the Spring. Members also volunteered to serve when the polo shots were administered at the school on Feb. 13.

A collection was taken for the benefit of the Founders' Day project and refreshments were served.

Zion Guild Meets Tuesday

The Women's Guild of the Zion Reformed Church will meet Tuesday night in the church social rooms. Bible Study will be conducted by Miss Kathryn Pontus at 7 p.m. The Guild meeting will begin at 7:30.

A film, "Close-up," explaining the needs of the people of Europe and Asia and the services which the churches are performing, will be shown.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The sight of daffodils nodding inconspicuously out of the brown paper sacks of groceries the housewives were lugging home yesterday was enough to lend a gain feeling to what was otherwise an ordinary old Friday.

Very few of the women, even those who ordinarily wouldn't dream of spending money on cut flowers in the dead of winter, were able to resist those daffodils. Oh, the first time around they resisted nobly. But at the meat counter maybe they picked hamburger instead of steak or olive instead of butter and before they went to the checkers they quick went over and took a bunch of daffodils.

What their families said at supper time with the daffodils nodding over the pared down food, I won't guess. But whatever they said, I bet they ate with a better appetite and lighter hearts. Man does not live by bread alone, and daffodils in February are a good investment whatever economists might think.

There's something about February that makes it imperative to try and rush the season along somehow. That's why women fall for the new Spring hats so unsuitably for snowstorms. Why cotton dresses are selling so fast even to people who aren't going to Florida. Just having a new cotton dress hanging in the closet seems to make summer closer.

Of course if we want to be practical about this rushing of the seasons we might try cleaning out those closets and get a head start on Spring cleaning. With those daffodils to spur us on — we might just do that. And then we might not.

Heart Drive Workers Named In Heights Area

Arlington Heights — The Heart Drive workers for this section have been announced. In the Arlington Heights section they include Mrs. Clyde Butz, Mrs. William Heller, Mrs. Perry Fritz, Miss Barbara Post, Mrs. Howard Merring, Mrs. John Pyle, Mrs. Anthony Archer and Mrs. Harry Serfass.

For the Lackawanna Trail area they are Mrs. John Baylor, Mrs. C. G. Bush, Mrs. George Straka, Mrs. Earl Halstead, Mrs. John Harl, Mrs. Shaefer, and Mrs. Wilson Merring.

For the Chipperfield drive section: Mrs. Harry Congdon Jr., Mrs. John Tease and Mrs. Edward Belcher.

Kits for heart Monday will be delivered to the workers the middle of the week and will be picked up to be taken to headquarters at the Security Trust Building on Feb. 25 by Mrs. Howard Merring and Mrs. Ernest Bittenbender.

Parents To Confer Sunday At St. Matthew's

Conferences will be held at St. Matthew's Parochial School this Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 when the teaching nuns will be in their classrooms to discuss the progress of the children with their parents. It was announced at the meeting of St. Matthew's Parent-Teachers this week.

The meeting opened with prayer by Rev. Francis Barrett. Mrs. Jack Meyers program chairman reported Rev. Essey would head a panel discussion at the March meeting. Mrs. Z. J. Viednicki reported on the success of the bake sale for the benefit of the school band.

A Valentine party was held in each room, given by the home-room mothers. Mothers also assisted with the administration of polo shots in the school on Wednesday given by Dr. W. H. Caulfield and Dr. Harold Pond.

Mrs. Arthur Henning outlined the six point program of the National Council of Catholic Women: organization and development, cooperation with confraternities, spiritual development, while Mrs. Arthur Blewett discussed Catholic charities, Mrs. Joseph Clamph, parent education; and Mrs. Harvey Possinger, public relations.

A play, "She Made A Novena" was presented by the school theater guild directed by Frank Gerbach, Miss Marie Brown and Mrs. Josephine McGowan, and starring Frank Ashcroft, Chrissie Anderson, Betty Gimbel, Richard Wolslayer and Mary Bordinan.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Wesley Beech, Mrs. Truman Barnett and Mrs. Robert Ludgate.

Fidelity Circle Plans Programs For Spring Months

Portland — The Fidelity Circle of the Portland Presbyterian Church met on Tuesday night in the social room. Mrs. Ethel Seely and Mrs. Edgar Dalberg, presided over the business session. Mrs. James Bartman gave the secretary report, and Mrs. Morris Hauser reported on the treasury. Mrs. Bartman and Mrs. Everett Hughes were hostesses and served refreshments.

Mrs. Ray Transue program chairman, introduced the pastor, Dr. David Edwards, who showed movies on Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church.

The programs were planned for the coming months. The decorations were in keeping with Lincoln's Birthday. Letters were read from Mrs. Lela Pipher.

Those present were Mrs. Ray Transue, Mrs. Ethel Seely, Mrs. Edgar Dalberg, Mrs. Olin Cramer, Mrs. Matilda Snyder, Mrs. Sadie Eliehorn, Mrs. Morris Hauser, Miss Agnes Williams, Mrs. M. C. Cramer, Mrs. E. Repash, Mrs. C. J. Knealing, Mrs. Paul Sigafus, Miss Alice Delp, Mrs. Ray Transue, Mrs. Mable Labarre, Mrs. Marjorie Snyder, Mrs. G. J. Davies, Dr. Edwards and the hostesses.

Den Mother Is Honored At Stork Shower

Canadensis Mrs. Mary Wicks, a Den mother in Troop 89 of Barrett, was honored by the other Den mothers and the wives of Cub leaders at a stork shower on Wednesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ziegler. A cake, made by Mrs. Cornelius Vrolijk, in the shape of a cradle with a blue bordered pillow and a rose covered blanket was the main object of conversation at the party.

The many gifts were placed in an antique cradle before the fireplace. The cradle was decorated in pink and white with blue bows. Those present were Mrs. Roehling Gravel, Mrs. Conrad Serfass, Mrs. John Sytk, Mrs. William Cairney, Mrs. Milo Megargie, Mrs. George Koehner, Mrs. Cornelius Vrolijk, Mrs. Francis Megargie, Mrs. Horace Starn, Mrs. Charles Villa, guest of honor Mrs. Mary Wicks and hostesses Mrs. Clara Perry and Mrs. Kay Ziegler. Little Hla-wahli Wicks is to be the name of a baby, be it boy or girl.

Miss Janet Highfield

Jack Darr Engaged To Student Nurse

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Highfield, of Duke Center, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Rae, to Jack Darr, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Darr, of Arlington Heights.

Miss Highfield is a graduate of Otto Township High School, Duke Center, and is a senior at the Sharon General Hospital School for Nursing at Sharon, where she will be graduated in June.

Mr. Darr is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and Mansfield State Teachers College where he majored in music. After serving in the U. S. Army Band for two years, he became music supervisor at the Duke Center Schools. He attends the summer sessions at Syracuse University where he is working toward a Masters Degree.

They have set June 22 as their wedding day.

Arlington Hts. WSCS Lunches At Chapel

Arlington Heights — The meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Arlington Heights Chapel was held Wednesday at noon with a covered lunch luncheon. Mrs. Gertrude Fitzgerald, president, gave the invocation.

Many of the members brought samples of the articles they are making for the bazaar and quite a number of girls in the mission at Mole, Africa.

A roast beef supper was planned for Thursday, March 7. Banks for the rainy day contributions were distributed to the members. One new member, Mrs. Victor Cann, was welcomed. Mrs. Hontz and Mrs. Cora Uhl were visitors.

Luncheon arrangements were made by Mrs. Olive Merring and Mrs. Elizabeth Evans. Mrs. Henrietta George and Mrs. Mary Pensyl are cleaning the church for the month of February.

Present were Mrs. Gertrude Fitzgerald, Mrs. Henrietta George, Mrs. Mary Post, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, Mrs. Anna Serfass, Mrs. Olive Merring, Mrs. Ethel Tease, Mrs. Vivian Butz, Mrs. Jean Serfass and son, Ricky; Mrs. Hontz, Mrs. Cora Uhl and Mrs. Victor Cann.

Dorcas Circle, Elects Officers, Plans Comedy

Barrett — The Dorcas Circle of the Mountaineer Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Karl Rose, Price's Drive, on Tuesday night. Officers elected for the year are president, Mrs. Glen Shaller; vice president, Mrs. Naomi Reisenwitz; secretary, Mrs. Ethel Conley; treasurer, Mrs. Iva Rose; chaplain, Mrs. Bernice Shepard.

Plans were made for the presentation of a play by members of the Circle and their families before Spring. It is a comedy with an old time setting, with the action taking place on the Podunk Limited Trolley.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served. Present were Mrs. Marian Miller, Mrs. Glen Shaller, Mrs. Hazel Harrison, Mrs. Bernice Shepard, Mrs. Ethel Conley, Mrs. Thelma Albert and Mrs. Naomi Reisenwitz.

Hadassah To Meet Monday At PP&L

The Stroudsburg branch of Hadassah will hold its February meeting on Monday night at 8 in the headquarters of the PP&L Building, Phillips St., Stroudsburg, rather than in the Temple Israel. Mrs. Betty Noack, home economist, will demonstrate the use of all types of electrical equipment in cooking and the results of her demonstration will be served as refreshments.

During the business meeting, with Mrs. Bertha Albert presiding, there will be a discussion of the current situation in Israel and a vote of the members on what action, if any, the local Hadassah should take. All members are requested to be present so that their opinions may be considered. Mrs. Ruth Popkins is program chairman.

New Guild Plans Lawn Fete for This Summer

Dingmans Ferry — The newly organized Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist met on Sunday afternoon, and made extensive plans for their summer lawn fete. Presided over by its president, Mrs. Robert Findlay, the Guild met at the home of Mrs. Walton Adams and discussed the details of the proposed summer affair. A definite date has not yet been determined, but plans call for an outdoor festival on the grounds of the Kennard Lewis home in Dingmans Ferry, probably some time during the month of July.

Arrangements were made to start work on various handmade gifts and several ladies volunteered to be responsible for specific booths, as follows: Aprons, handkerchiefs, handbags, and other fancy articles — Mrs. Charles B. Gros and Mrs. R. E. Dornier of Philadelphia; White Elephant articles, books, etc. — Mrs. Raymond Angle; Homemade foods — Mrs. Harry Snyder; Parcel Post packages — Miss Nancy Findlay. The men will be put in charge of the hot dogs and soda pop.

While the ladies were meeting at Mrs. Adams' home, the vestrymen met at the home of Kennard Lewis for their monthly business meeting. The next meeting has been scheduled for March 10, at which time the vestrymen and the ladies of the Guild will make a survey of the church property to determine the necessary repairs and improvements to be made.

The meetings were preceded by a congregational dinner at the Bellevue Hotel which was enjoyed by the following members and friends: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Asford, rector of the Church of St. John, with their son, Terry; Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Gros and Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Dornier of Philadelphia; Mrs. Walton Adams; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Findlay; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Angle and their friend, Mrs. Clarence Muller of Fanwood, N. J.; and Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Lewis with their three children. Mr. and Mrs. Grant MacDonald were unable to attend the dinner and meetings. Mr. MacDonald, who is secretary of the Church of St. John, is in the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg for observation.

In St. Augustine

Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Groner and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Groner, both of Stroudsburg were guests at the Hotel Ponce de Leon during their stay in St. Augustine, Fla.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

National Sew and Save Week begins today, and no one, I am sure, is more enthusiastic about it than a sewing teacher in Seattle, Washington, who will never see the stitches being made so painstakingly by the ten little girls who are her pupils.

The woman is Mrs. John Quigg, who has been sightless since the age of twelve, but who leads an active, normal life as a wife, mother, and Brownie Troop leader. Mrs. Quigg feels she is a natural to direct Brownie activities, because she has learned so many arts and crafts since she became afflicted. The youngsters are sometimes afraid of her . . . one little girl would hide from her, until she no longer created any special interest on the leader's part, and then she settled down as a serious member of the group, but all the children are mystified at the things Mrs. Quigg can do . . . even to threading a needle.

Mrs. Quigg, it seems to me, would be a perfect choice as Queen of Sew and Save Week, while Wyckoff's fabric department would be an ideal place for the coronation. For one thing, this sightless woman presents quite a challenge to all of us who have our senses intact and yet complain, "I just can't sew a stitch" — but I'd love to learn someday.

Our Wyckoff fabrics are so beautiful they defy description. There are so many blends, so many new finishes, that give even the least expensive the luxurious hand of wool. Just the other afternoon, I was waiting for an ad in our domestic department, when a well known local woman purchased 3 1/2 yards of material for a sheath dress. It was black, with a nubby thread, that carried a lighter tone, running through. I thought it was expensive wool, and remarked what a beautiful dress it would make. "Yes," said Hattie Walters, "and it's only rayon and acetate — regular 1.49 a yard, now 99c."

Seems impossible . . . but that dress will cost less than 4.00 . . . and it would sell in the stores for about five times that much. This is only one example of "Sewing and Saving" from dozens the girls in our fabric department might relate.

If we may borrow the Macy's slogan for just one minute (PLEASE Mr. Macy!) we'll modify it a bit. Instead of saying simply "It's smart to be thrifty" . . . we'll say, "It's SEW smart to be thrifty."

And if Mrs. John Quigg can thread a needle and sew when her eyes are sightless, there's just no excuse for most of us being unable to sew a straight seam, or hem a dish towel. Let's see . . . even once I was a Brownie. What-ever did I do with my thimble?

Such a gloomy Valentine Day as THIS is! But what a lovely surprise on my desk this morning — a square glass apothecary jar filled with bright pink soap, and tied with a joyous pink bow. The donor could be hinting, of course, that I'm in need of a bath — but I prefer to believe she meant to tie in with my pink and charcoal color scheme . . . Don't know how Mrs. T. F. Rhodes' name and that of her sister, Mrs. Stewart Shiffer, came to be dropped from the Woman's Club column, but they were! Too bad, for they were among the women who were so kind to me when I was a teenage reporter. Mrs. Rhodes was one of the most interested hostesses of the Children's Aid Society in its infancy, and Mrs. Shiffer graduated from school along with my mother . . . Do you know of anyone nominating the bravest man of the year? My personal choice is the gentleman who turned his charge plate over to me, and said, "Here — buy my wife a Valentine and have it gift wrapped, will you?" I threatened to go hog wild — but he didn't even get worried — so I didn't. Didn't even charge a commission!

THE SUCCESSFUL FARMER OF TOMORROW
IS THE FUTURE FARMER OF TODAY

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S birthday has special significance to the Future Farmers of America who honor him as a sort of patron saint. Therefore, the week of his birthday is also celebrated as National FFA Week. Special events will be conducted by some 400,000 FFA members and thousands of former members during Feb. 16-23. Each chapter in the Pocono Area has planned some program to inform the public of its activities.

Delays In Building Harmful To Schools

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of articles dealing with the financial problems confronting area schools as far as building programs are concerned. This problem of property assessments will be carefully explained in the series.

By Leonard Randolph

AT THIS WEEK'S East Stroudsburg Area Jointure meeting a parent posed the following critical point:

"I have two kids in school. We need this building program and we need it badly. I'm sick of seeing the kids shoved into basement rooms without proper ventilation. And I don't want my kids crammed into classrooms, two in a desk with 50 or 60 children in one room."

"It's all right to say that we 'may have to wait' for a building program. But if anyone can show me how I can hold my kids back for two years while we wait to get the county assessment program finished and working, I'd be happy."

The gentleman who made this comment was addressing himself directly to the problems of the East Stroudsburg Area Jointure, whose $2,600,000 building program may be sabotaged by low assessments in its six districts.

But he could have just as easily been talking before any meeting of any group of school boards in Monroe County.

Assessed value controls, almost entirely, the activity of school directors in all districts. It can make or break any attempt to build better educational systems.

For example, Pocono Mountain Jointure is this area's newest combined school district. It is now planning for a joint high school to serve secondary students from all eight of its districts. If that program is to be carried out, some form of assessment or tax equalization must be reached.

Stroud Union School District, with a building program already partially completed, has been rattled this past week by a study of assessed value in its area. Overall, the ratio between assessments and the value of properties on the market has sunk lower than at any time in recent years. Stroud Union has already floated its bond issue. Practically speaking, the district's building troubles will be minor. The solution is already under way.

But during this past year Stroud Union dependent just as heavily as any other local school district on State subsidies to help foot the bill of school operations. They were eventually forced to borrow nearly 100 percent of their total borrowing capacity to foot bills and other expenses during the year.

Operation costs are mounting. So are the costs of construction. There is no sign that either of these continual costs of education are going to drop within the next couple of years.

There is a simple reason for this.

What would happen in the next fiscal year if State subsidies failed to come through again? None of the Stroud Union's school directors is looking forward to that additional headache. It's a headache for which their borrowing power offers no balm and no contemplated cure.

In Monroe County's West End area, a potential jointure has been in the discussion stage for months. When all other obstacles appear to be falling away, school directors are still faced with an overwhelming question: How to build a necessary secondary school?

Here again the assessed values of the individual townships is too low to carry the building program. No bonding house would be willing to take "the chance."

The West End was the first area to try to reach a "self-help" agreement through its local assessors. In a meeting several months ago, board members from five districts outlined their problems to assessors, explained that some effort to raise assessments equally was the only way out and begged for their cooperation.

Assessors sympathized with the school boards. Some of them agreed that assessments were off-balance in their own districts. But very few concrete results came from the meeting.

Talking about assessments is almost guaranteed to start an argument in most districts. Almost no one wants his assessment raised — if it is low.

But there are literally hundreds of persons in Monroe County who want the assessment of their next-door neighbor raised — because they can see how grotesquely out of proportion it is when compared with their own.

When it goes into effect the county-wide equalization program will do away with such unfairness as much as is humanly possible. But there is bound to be a "waiting period" before that program goes into effect.

The basic question confronting parents, taxpayers and school directors now, therefore, is whether the waiting period is either possible or feasible.

No one will deny that, if they are faced to do so, all school boards in Monroe County could call a halt to building programs.

If they do, it will mean more "basement classrooms" for more students; less services for individual students from the teachers. It will mean, for a time at least, the breakdown of the educational process in a hopeless tempest of baby-sitting in large groups.

It will mean, also, that many of the "special services" of schools will have to be curtailed. Aside from the fact that these services are needed, badly, in most districts the collapse of such programs will, in the end, hit local taxpayers and hit them hard.

There is a simple reason for this.

Repairs Begin On Bangor Building

BANGOR — Speedy action on the part of insurance representatives Thursday night enabled the property committee of the Bangor Area Joint School System to arrange for immediate repairs to the fire-damaged portion of the Market St. administration building.

Meeting with Ernest Turzco, the school's insurance broker of record, the committee accepted the report of Adjuster Wallace H. Webster, of Allentown, who was on the job early yesterday morning while smoke still lingered in the former William Ditchett home.

Webster and Turzco called in Stanley Butler, local builder, and L. J. Brusch's electricians to appraise the cost of replacing damaged portions of the structure.

Arrangements The property committee in turn, acting in the emergency status which permits awarding of contracts without competitive bidding, arranged for Butler and Brusch to begin the repair work immediately.

Superintendent Donald B. Keat praised the school board's foresight of several years ago when two teachers were given extra pay to draft an inventory of every article of equipment and supplies in buildings throughout the system. As a result, the superintendent was able to turn over to the adjuster a complete list of articles in the school nurse's quarters, which bore the brunt of the damage in Wednesday night's blaze, which evidence indicates started in the electrical system.

Attending the committee session besides Keat and secretary Reimer Speer were directors Donald Creighton, Marvin DePamphilis, Kenneth Ace, and Quintus LeBar.

THE FEBRUARY meeting of the Berean Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School has been cancelled, Mrs. Clyde Beehler, president, has announced.

The Jolly Jane Club of Bartonsville will meet at the home of Mary Alliger, on Tuesday night, Feb. 19.

There will not be any worship services at St. John's Lutheran Church, Bartonsville, on Sunday, Feb. 17. Instead the members are invited to attend installation services for the new pastor of the Hamilton Lutheran charge, Rev. Robert T. Zuch, which will be conducted at the Christ Church, Hamilton Square, at 11 a. m. Rev. Charles Cooper, president of the synod, will be guest minister and will officiate at the installation service. All members are urged to attend.

Sunday School sessions at St. John's will be held at 9:30 a. m. on Feb. 17, instead of at the usual hour.

Kenneth Weber has returned home after spending several weeks in the Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia, where he underwent heart surgery. His condition is now reported to be good.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beehler and son Gary, of Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beehler and daughter Lana Kay, of Henryville Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Metzgar, of Bartonsville, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beehler.

Ward Captains Selected For Heart Fund Drive In Bangor

BANGOR—Ward captains for the Heart Fund drive in Bangor next Sunday, Feb. 24, from 3 to 5 p. m., were identified yesterday by Mrs. J. Zerne Heberling, who is serving as general chairman.

The campaign in the First Ward will be conducted by the local Lions Club under the leadership of Verne Smith. In the Fourth Ward members of the Bee Hive, headed by Miss Nancy Chamberlin, will make the door-to-door canvass. Captains in the other wards, whose aides have yet to be selected, are Mrs. Merlin Tucker, Second and Mrs. E. K. Eisenhart, Jr., Third.

"Help Your Heart Fund—Help Your Heart," is the slogan for this year's drive, which will be conducted by volunteers on a nationwide basis Feb. 24, Heart Sunday. A pamphlet and envelope for the contribution will be left at each house.

Research The fund supports research, education and community heart programs aimed at reducing disability and death from the heart and blood vessel diseases. Of the money raised, 60 per cent remains in the Lehigh Valley to support the area program; 25 per cent goes to the American Heart Assn. to advance the national program of research, education and community service; and the balance, of 15 per cent goes to the state heart association.

Diseases of the heart and circulation were responsible for 810,200 deaths, or approximately 53 per cent of all deaths at all ages, in 1955, the latest year for which vital statistics are available. Cancer was second with 242,430; accidents next with 91,270.

Approximately one out of every 16 suffer from some sort of heart or circulatory disease. This includes 500,000 children of school age. The malady is not necessarily associated with advanced age since about 232,000 to those who died of cardiovascular disease in 1955, or 29 per cent, were under the so-called retirement age of 65.

While research has made notable advances, medical science has yet to discover the underlying causes for atherosclerosis, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever which together account for about 90 per cent of all heart disease.

Pocono Twp. Rips All-Stars, 65-48

Frailay's 30-Point Spree Leads Loop Kings To Win

POCONO TWP. HIGH gathered up the last of its many accomplishments this season by romping to a 65-48 victory over the Monroe County Scholastic League All-Stars last night.

Playing before 700 fans in East Stroudsburg High's gymnasium, the Monroe's 1956-57 kings turned what was a close game into a near rout as Paul Frailay led a Pocono scoring parade down the stretch.

Frailay, intermingling one-handed push shots with tap-ins, drives and steals, gathered up game individual honors as he meshed 30 points. Twenty-six of the Pocono shotmaker's points came on shots from the field.

Burdette Peechatka, another of Harry Werkheiser's consistent double figures point men, took second team honors with 14. Ron Martiniell was next with 11.

Gravel Edges Frailay For Points Crown

BARRETT's Reed Gravel nosed out Pocono Township's Paul Frailay for the 1956-57 individual scoring title in the Monroe County Scholastic League, figures compiled by statistician Jim Werkheiser revealed last night.

Gravel, center on Joe Murray's five, tossed in 268 points in 14 games, while his closest competitor, Frailay, garnered 262 in the same number of contests.

Martiniell 3rd

In third place was Pocono's Ron Martiniell with 215, followed by Gene Mackes of Chestnut Hill with 211.

League champions, Pocono Twp., dominated the team statistics scoring 972 tallies, while holding 14 fouls to 546. Harry Werkheiser's quintet had the best per game average, 69.4; most field goals, 380; most foul goals, 212; most points one game, 101; and held Coolbaugh to 20 in one contest for the best defensive job of the year.

Four STC Teams In Action On Foreign 'Grounds' Today

FOUR EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College athletic teams will swing into action today on foreign territories. The matmen of George Ockershausen and swimmers of Frank Grinn will take on the wrestlers and tankers of Brooklyn Poly Tech in the Gotham.

Jim Reed's Warrior court machine will travel to West Chester to meet the Golden Rams in a Pennsylvania Teachers Conference duel, while Miss Anne Vanezis' STC sextette faces Temple's ladies in Philadelphia.

Seek 3rd Win

The "Hill" grunt-grainers will be after their third victory of the year when they take on Tech in Brooklyn. Ockershausen's proteges have dropped three meets this year.

The STC swimmers, following a resounding win over Lock Haven last week, will be seeking their third success against Tech's aquatic team. The locals have also lost three times.

Eastburg's five, 5-6 on the season, face an old nemesis in West Chester. Like in football, the Warriors from the hill have found victories wanting in battles with the Rams of suburban Philadelphia.

Rated High

This year, the Rams are rated one of the better quintets in the Teachers loop. East Stroudsburg has a 2-2 record against state foes.

East Stroudsburg's top record-wise team, the girls basketballers, will be after their fourth straight triumph of the season against the Owlettes. Temple has a 4-2 log.

Greene-Dreher Gets Revenge, Tops Delaware

NEWFOUNDLAND — Greene-Dreher-Sterling High School avenged its previous seven-point loss to Delaware Valley by dealing out a 66-60 setback to the Milford five in a non-league game on the local court last night.

Greene-Dreher, with Howard Phillips setting the pace, was off to a fast start, piling up an 18-12 edge at the quarter and increasing it to 33-22 at the half. After a pretty even third period, which ended with the home forces still ahead, 46-34, Delaware found the range and outscored Greene-Dreher, 26-20, to close the gap to six points at the final gong.

Phillips Leads

Phillips hit for 11 field goals and one foul to lead the scoring with 23 points, followed by Johnny Hinds with 16. Bob Haag and Donald Olsonmer each had 12. Mel Stuphen, Sunny Williams and Lee Doyle accounted for 41 of the losers' points.

It was Greene-Dreher's 14th win against only two losses, Milford, which also has lost two, Milford, 12, Coach Hank Arneberg's forces travel to Hawley next Friday night for a tough league test. A victory will assure Greene-Dreher of a tie with Waymart for the championship.

In last night's preliminary game, Delaware Valley Jayvees edged the host team, 30-23.

Shook-Led Stroudsburg High Edges Lehigh Five, 59-57

Hellertown 60-57 Victor Over Eastburg

HELLERTOWN — East Stroudsburg High's slumping Cavaliers were caught in the upset web last night as Hellertown High nipped Doug Schoonover's boys, 60-57, in a Lehigh - Northampton duel here last night.

The Cavaliers' only real threat came in the second half but the uphill climb was just too steep and Hellertown went on to record its first second-half L-N win. The loss was Eastburg's third in five second-half starts.

The Panthers, hungry for victory, bounced out to a 10-3 lead in the opening minutes and the Cavaliers never quite recovered from this initial assault.

Trail 40-24

Hellertown led 24-14 at the end of the first quarter and carried a 40-24 bulge into halftime.

New Pro Grid Loop Planned; Set To Invade NFL Cities

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15 (AP)—A Baltimore sportsman today invited representatives from 16 major cities in the East, South and Mid-west to meet Feb. 24 and organize a new professional football league that would invade the territory of four National League cities.

Millard T. Lang, 44, a Westinghouse Electric Corp. official, said the neoloop would be called the United States Football League, Inc. An organizational meeting will be held here Feb. 23.

Lang said he had no intention of trying to fight the National Football League, and early comment from officials of that 37-year-old loop indicated they were losing little sleep. National League moguls, however, after the war finally ended in a merger with the NFL in 1950, it cost both sides more than five million dollars—mostly in a war for player talent.

Letters were mailed to mayors in 18 cities, and some expressed interest in the proposal while others said they had not received the letter and would withhold comment.

North Unit

The plan called for a northern division composed of New York, Baltimore, Buffalo, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Boston, Cincinnati and Detroit. The southern division cities would be Miami, New Orleans, Atlanta, Louisville, St. Louis, Kansas City, Houston and Dallas. Play would begin in 1958.

New York, Baltimore and Detroit already are represented in the National League, while the Green Bay Packers play half of their home schedule in Milwaukee. "We certainly do not plan to run headlong into the National Football League," said Lang, president of the Baltimore Rockets of the American Soccer League. He never has been connected with professional football.

Lang suggested that the U. S. League would play night games, or in midweek and on weekends when National League clubs were away so as to avoid schedule conflicts.

"That's Fine"

"That's fine," said Bert Bell, NFL commissioner, when advised of the proposal. "Let them go ahead. There is no reason why they shouldn't form another league. We welcome competitive bidding for players. We have to bid against Canada now. Another one won't make any difference."

Boston, Miami and Dallas failed to support professional football in the past. Buffalo did well in the All-American Conference although it lost out when that circuit merged with the NFL in 1950.

Left unanswered were vital questions as finances, ball parks in the various cities, and sufficient high class player talent.

The secretary to Mayor Pankov of Buffalo said "he will consider the new league, but will do nothing that might hurt Buffalo's chances for a National Football League franchise."

Washington Crews Barred For Two Years

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 15 (AP)—The University of Washington crews, long a power in college rowing, have been barred from the National Intercollegiate Regatta for two years as an outgrowth of a suspension by the NCAA, it was disclosed today.

The action by the International Rowing Assn. was first revealed by a Syracuse, N. Y., newspaper the Herald-Journal and later confirmed by Asa Business, secretary of the IRA with offices here.

The regatta, which for years was rowed at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is scheduled on Lake Onondaga in Syracuse June 22.

Conforming

Bushnell said the action was not taken by the IRA on specific request of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. but in conformity with a resolution by the powerful NCAA council taken last Aug. 20 in Denver, Colo.

The council, which is the punitive arm of the NCAA, reported on football recruiting abuses by the University of Washington and placed the institution on probation until Aug. 21, 1958.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Pitcher Steve Ridzik and outfielder Bob Lemon agreed to terms with the New York Giants, bringing the signed total to 33 players.

Pro Football In Harmony Between U.S. And Canada

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15 (AP)—

Professional football on an international basis is just one big happy family. National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell and his Canadian counterpart, Ralph Cooper, said today.

Cooper, who journeyed over from New York to pay a surprise visit on Bell, described 1956 as a year of "very fine cooperation" between the two circuits.

"There were one or two problems which came up, but nothing we couldn't iron out over the telephone," said the president of the Canadian Pro Football Council.

Cooper, who finally has earned the power to act for as well as represent the nine Canadian teams said that to his knowledge there wasn't one case of player raiding last year. We honored each other's contracts and option, he said, Bell concurred.

Follow Agreement

The Canadian, who owns part of the Hamilton Tiger Cats in the eastern half of the Canadian League, said both leagues had carried out to the letter the agreement reached last year. To all intent and purposes, he said, the so-called war between the leagues is as dead as the proverbial dodo bird.

FIRE SCHOOL — Six major figures in planning the fire fighting school to be held in East Stroudsburg next Summer are pictured above. The group, left to right, consists of Jay Snover, secretary of the Monroe County Firemen's Assn.; Raymond LaBar, fire school committeeman; Don Snyder, fire school committeeman; Richard McDonough, director of the fire school; Harvey Burris, president of the association, and Roy Lesoine, fire school committeeman.

County Firemen Request Change In Highway Lights

MOUNT POCONO—The Monroe County Firemen's Assn., met on Thursday night as opposing "red flashing lights" currently used on Highway Department vehicles, it was revealed last night.

The action was taken during a regular meeting of the county fire organization, here at the fire house. The group, composed of all fire companies in the county, was agreed that copies of the record should be forwarded to Rep. Hanford L. Cleveland and Sen. William Z. Scott. The firemen feel that an amendment should be made to the existing law stipulating that "flashing red lights" be used only in case of emergencies.

The firemen were of the opinion that Highway Department vehicles should use flashing lights of yellow color.

Director
Richard McDonough, member of the Marshalls Creek Fire Co., was named director of the fire school to be held on the Day St. property of Acme Hose Co. next Summer.

Roy Lesoine, Don Snyder and Raymond LaBar, all members of the Stroud Township Fire Co., were named to the fire school committee. The committee will be entrusted with the task of setting up the school, planning water sources, fire fighting problems and a program for the drill tower constructed last Summer.

The training school, scheduled to feature two days of intensive work, is open to all firemen in Monroe County. The school is being held to improve the calibre of fire fighting in the region. The school faculty is expected to include officials of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, Fire Training Service.

Harvey Burris, member of the Stroudsburg Department and president of the association, was in charge of the meeting. The Mount Pocono Co. played the role of host.

Johns-Manville, gave a talk on "Growing Conditions of Industry" and showed a film on "The Growth of Free Enterprise."

The club made plans for a dance to be held at Dutch's on St. Patrick's Day for the benefit of the Memorial Fund.

He worked at Smith's Restaurant, Bangor, prior to entering the service. He completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, also in Texas.

Herbert Cann, 57, Expires At Home

BANGOR—Herbert Cann, 57, of 815 Northampton St., a well-known local insurance agent and a director of Merchants' National Bank, died yesterday morning in his home.

Born in East Bangor he was the son of the late James and Anna Tinney Cann. He had owned and operated an insurance agency here the past 30 years.

Church
Mr. Cann was a member of First Methodist Church; Bangor Lodge 565, F and AM; BPOE, 1106 in Bangor and the Knights of the Golden Eagle in East Bangor.

Surviving are his wife, Sarah E.; a son, Herbert G. Cann, Bangor; a daughter, Mrs. Vivian Smith, Bangor; two grandchildren; a brother, Donald of East Bangor.

Funeral services and burial will be held at the convenience of the family.

Educators To Attend Conference

SIX EDUCATORS from Monroe County will attend the American Association of School Administrators Conference in Atlantic City beginning tomorrow.

John C. Litts, county superintendent; Carl T. Secor, East Stroudsburg Area supervisor and Lawrence Wile, Pocono Township School principal will leave today as will Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroud Union Schools.

Monday
convention will be C. Willis Dunlap, supervising principal of Pocono Mountain Jointure and Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools.

The AASA is one of the largest organizations of its kind in the nation. All 48 states will be represented at the convention.

Kresgeville.
Rev. John Robbinhoff officiated and burial was in Gilbert Cemetery. Nephews were pallbearers.

Jean Igler Will Receive Stroud Union DAR Award

JEAN E. IGLER, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Igler, 1745 Douglas Ave., Stroudsburg, receives the DAR "Good Citizenship" award this year at Stroud Union High School.

Her senior activities include co-editorship of the "Pioneer" yearbook; membership in the girls and mixed choruses and the "Mountaineer"; she is accompanist for the elementary chorus and secretary of the mixed chorus.

She is secretary of the senior homeroom and has been a member of the casts of both junior and senior class plays. She is a past member of Stroudsburg High Orchestra, the Little Orchestra Society of Monroe County, the Madrigal Singers and the Future Nurses Association.

Second Prize
Miss Igler was second prize winner in the Northeastern Pennsylvania Science Fair in 1954; won honorable mention in the Lehigh Valley Science Fair that same year; was third prizewinner in floral arrangements at the Week-off-Sears Agriculture-Homemaking Vocational Exhibit.

She was first and second place winner in oratorical contests and a member of Senior Girl Scout Troop 36. She was Monroe County representative to the National Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Pontiac, Mich., this past Summer. Miss Igler is one of two girls from

Former Area Youth Honored

BANGOR—A former Monroe County boy and a Bangor youth were among those slated for honors last night at an Eagle Court of Honor for Delaware Valley Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Isadore Anthony Cappozzolo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cappozzolo, 589 McKinley St., Bangor, was made an Eagle Scout in the court of honor.

Absent
Slated for honors, but unable to be present, was George Howard, son of Maj. James C. Howard Jr., Tobyhanna Signal Depot. The boy, a member of Troop 91 in Tobyhanna, formerly attended Coolbaugh High School. He is now a student at Stanton Military Academy in Stanton, Va.

The honor court was held in the borough high school here.

Boys Gather For Reunion

A GROUP of 65 boys who attended the 1956 YMCA Day Camp gathered at the YMCA last night for the annual Day Campers' reunion.

William McDonnell, camp director, was in charge of the program, which included the singing of camp songs, a swim in the YMCA pool, and a discussion of plans for the 1957 Day Camp.

Refreshments were served at the close of the reunion.
